[8] 次の英文を読んで、下の問いに答えなさい。（*印は注があります）

Ken lives near Midori Station in Aoba City. He is a junior high school student now. He likes English and he is a member of the English club. There are seven members in the club. They enjoy talking with their *ALT, Ms. Brown, in English. She often says in her English classes and in the club, "It is important for you to use English."

One day Ken went to the city library near Aoba Station. After reading some books, he returned to Aoba Station. When he was waiting for a train to Midori Station, he saw a woman. She was looking around. He *said to himself, "She doesn't know the train she should take. I want to help her. Is she from another country? Does she speak English?" ①Then Ken remembered the words of Ms. Brown. He said to the woman, "Excuse me, do you speak English?" She said, "Yes, I do." He said, "*Shall I help you?" She said, "Yes, please. I want to go to Midori Station." He said, "Midori Station? I'm going there too. Let's go together." They got on the same train.

Ken said to her, "I'm Ken." She said, "I'm Nancy." He said, "(②)" She said, "I'm from Australia. I came to Japan to see my friend." He used some easy English words he learned. He enjoyed talking with her.

Ten minutes later they got to Midori Station. Nancy smiled and said, "My friend lives near this station. She will come here. Thank you very much." Ken was very happy. He said to her, "Goodbye," and went home.

The next day Ken had an English class. His English teacher, Mr. Yoshida, came to the class with Ms. Brown. In the class Ms. Brown said to the students, "Yesterday my friend came to this city from Australia. When she was at Aoba Station, a kind boy spoke to her in English and helped her. He was as old as you." Ken said to himself, "Ms. Brown is talking about me!"

After school on that day, Ms. Brown went to Ken's classroom and said to him, "Thank you for helping my friend yesterday, Ken." Ken said, "Why do you know that?" Ms. Brown smiled and said, "I showed Nancy some pictures yesterday. They were taken in Japan. ③When she looked at a picture of the English club members, she was very surprised. She knew one of the students in the picture. She met him at Aoba Station. The boy was you, Ken."
